

Do you want to put your know-how and skills to use where they are needed? Do you want to work abroad and experience different cultures? Then the Centre for International Migration and Development (CIM) is your ideal partner for finding a responsible position in the field of development policy. We place highly qualified staff with employers in Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe.

The International Center for Agricultural Research in the Dry Areas in Cairo / Egypt is looking for a

Communications Specialist in Agricultural Research (m/f/d).

We are looking for you:

The International Center for Agricultural Research in the Dry Areas (ICARDA) needs your expertise to support it in improving internal and external scientific communications. The Center was established in 1977 as part of the Global Agricultural Research Partnership (CGIAR), and its development-oriented agricultural research contributes to improving the living conditions of rural populations in arid regions. A particular concern for ICARDA is focusing communications more on the development-related impacts of agricultural innovations on the employment opportunities of young people in rural areas. To achieve this, relevant target groups such as commissioning parties, decision-makers in the political arena, young people and other partners must be approached in different ways. ICARDA upholds the principle of gender equality in all its activities, and this applies to all aspects of its communications work.

Your tasks will involve:

- Developing communication materials that are appropriate to the target groups for a variety of communication channels
- Providing support in updating the CGIAR Research Program on Dryland Systems' Youth Strategy 2014-2017
- Providing training for scientists in the field of communication
- Assisting with preparing conferences and seminars with PR impact

Your profile:

- University degree in communications or media science, journalism, or a comparable qualification
- Several years' professional experience in strategic communication and producing information for a range of media, ideally in the area of agricultural science
- Proven experience in dealing with digital and social media, developing homepages and implementing communications campaigns
- Very good command of Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator
- Strong communication skills and the ability to express yourself well in English
- In addition you have the citizenship of an EU member state

What we offer:

- Varied tasks, which you will be expected to carry out self-responsibly in an international environment
- Cooperation with other development cooperation organisations
- Professional preparation for your assignment abroad
- Local employment contract as an integrated expert for an initial period of two years - contract may be extended
- Attractive monthly top-up payments in addition to local salary and social benefits
